

*Raising an Entreprenurphilanthropic Generation through
Financial Literacy & Character Development*

---

Dear parents,

Hopefully your child(ren) enjoyed our financial literacy program and learned a few new tools. While we provide a few basic tools so children can take advantage of character traits in their financial life, continuation and implementation of this process is going to be essential. I encourage you to review the workbook we used in class and continue the education with them.

I would also like to get your input about the material and how this education has affected your child(ren). Please take a moment and fill in the questionnaire below and return it in the self addressed envelope provided.

What did you like most about this program?

What is the most important change you have noticed in your child(ren) as a result of this program?

Would you recommend this program to your friends?

Do you think this program would be helpful for adults and families?

Any other comments!

Can we use your comments for our promotional material (i.e. web, newsletter, brochures)? If yes, please sign and provide your first name.
